Eligible Rollover Distributions

Eligible rollover distributions can be made directly to another qualified retirement plan/401(k), governmental 457(b), 403(a), 403(b), or government thrift savings plan that will accept it (direct rollover) or, if you choose, a Traditional, SIMPLE, or Roth IRA.

Eligible rollover distributions are all distributions from the plan except the following:

- Required minimum distributions;
Certain installment payments that are a part of a series of equal (or almost equal) periodic payments that will last for your lifetime (or the joint lives of you and your beneficiary) or for a specified period of 10 years or more; and
Distributions due to hardship

If you choose to rollover an eligible rollover distribution to a Roth IRA, you must include all pre-tax assets in your taxable income in the year of the distribution.

NOTE: A rollover to a SIMPLE IRA may not be made until two years after the first contribution to the SIMPLE IRA.

Withholding Instructions

Lump Sum Distribution/Partial Distribution - If your distribution is eligible for rollover and it is being distributed directly to you, you will be subject to mandatory Federal tax withholding of 20 percent of the payment (and State tax, if applicable) that must be submitted to the IRS at the time of the distribution as income tax withholding to be credited against your taxes. You cannot waive this withholding.

If your distribution is not an eligible rollover distribution, Federal tax (and State tax, if applicable) will be withheld at the rate of 10 percent of the payment, unless you specify to waive withholding or withhold at a higher rate.

State Withholding - Depending on your state of residency, the custodian may be required to withhold state income tax at a rate specified by your state, unless you waive it.

Direct Rollover - There is no mandatory withholding for direct rollovers. If your distribution is being directly rolled over to a Roth IRA, withholding is optional. Please specify if you wish to have Federal tax (and State tax, if applicable) withheld from your distribution. Even if you do not have income tax withheld, you are liable for payments of income tax on the taxable portion of your distribution. You may also be subject to tax penalties under the estimated tax payment rules if your payments of estimated tax and withholding, if any, are not adequate.

Your withholding election does not apply to any periodic or non-periodic distributions that are delivered outside the U.S. or its possessions to a U.S. citizen or resident alien. If you are a non-resident alien, your distributions are generally subject to a tax-withholding rate of 30 percent. A reduced withholding rate, including exemption, may apply if there is a tax treaty between your country of residence and the United States, and you submit Form W-8BEN, Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial owner for United States Tax Withholding, or satisfy the documentation requirements as provided under the regulations.

Periodic Distribution

For purposes of the withholding rules on distributions that are not eligible rollover distributions, a periodic distribution is one that is includible in your income for tax purposes and that you receive in installments at regular intervals (e.g., annually, quarterly, monthly, etc.) over a period of time (more than one year).

Periodic distributions are treated as wages for purposes of withholding. If you do not waive withholding on your periodic distributions, Federal income tax needs to be withheld from each payment as if you were a married individual claiming three withholding allowances. However, you can change the amount of the withholding.

Remember that there are penalties for not paying enough tax during the year, either through withholding or estimated tax payments. New retirees, especially, should see IRS Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax. It explains the estimated tax requirements and penalties in detail. You may be able to avoid quarterly estimated tax payments by having enough tax withheld from your pension or annuity using Form W-4P, Withholding Certificate for Pension or Annuity Payments.

This guide provides general information about state withholding requirements for IRA distributions. It is not intended to provide a complete overview of state withholding rules and regulations. The information in this guide was obtained from state revenue authorities, and every effort has been made to ensure its accuracy. Because state tax laws are subject to constant change, often without prior notice, the accuracy of the information cannot be guaranteed beyond the revision date of this guide.

General Rules

In most cases, state withholding applies to state residents only. In Maine, Massachusetts, Montana, Nebraska, Oregon, and Wisconsin, state withholding also applies to individuals required to file a state tax return in that state.

If a state withholding election is not made and state withholding is required, state tax will be withheld.

A state withholding election may be changed at any time, applicable to payments made after the change.

State-Specific Rules

Arkansas. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 3.0% of the gross payment unless the IRA owner elects no state withholding.

California. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 1.0% of the gross payment unless the IRA owner elects no state withholding.

Connecticut. Taxable lump-sum IRA distributions are subject to mandatory state withholding at 6.99% of the gross payment. Any other taxable distribution from an IRA is subject to state withholding at 6.99% of the gross payment, unless the IRA owner furnishes the financial organization with a completed Form CT-W4P. Form CT-W4P may be obtained from the Connecticut Department of Revenue Services.

District of Columbia. Lump-sum IRA distributions are subject to mandatory state withholding at 8.95% of the gross payment, except for any after-tax amount in a lump-sum distribution or a trustee-to-trustee transfer between IRAs.

Iowa. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 5.0% of the gross payment if federal income taxes are withheld from the payment.

Kansas. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 5.0% of the gross payment if the federal income taxes are withheld from the payment or if the IRA owner requests state withholding in writing.

Louisiana. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding only when the IRA owner elects state withholding and specifies a percentage not to exceed 4.8% of the gross payment.

Maine. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 5.0% of the gross payment if federal income taxes are withheld from that payment.

Massachusetts. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 5.0% of the gross payment if federal income taxes are withheld from the payment. (Exception: A payment is not subject to state withholding if it is excluded from taxation under Massachusetts law.)

Michigan. Any taxable distribution from an IRA received by an IRA owner or beneficiary born after December 31, 1945, is subject to state withholding at 4.25% of the gross payment, unless the IRA owner provides the financial organization with a completed Form MI W-4P. Withholding also applies to any taxable distributions received by an IRA owner or beneficiary born before 1946 that exceeds certain income thresholds. Withholding is not required on qualified distributions from Roth IRAs. Form MI W-4P may be obtained from the Michigan Department of Treasury.

Missouri. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 5.4% of the gross payment, unless the IRA owner elects no state withholding.

Montana. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding when an IRA owner elects state withholding and specifies an amount. If state withholding is elected, the financial organization is not required to withhold the amount specified if it would result in a net payment of less than $10.

Nebraska. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 5.0% of the gross payment if federal income taxes are withheld from the payment or if the IRA owner requests state withholding in writing.

New Jersey. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding when an IRA owner elects state withholding and specifies an amount. The IRA owner must specify an even dollar amount. If state withholding is elected, the financial organization is not required to withhold the amount specified if the withheld amount would be less than $10 (per payment).

North Carolina. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 4.0% of the gross payment unless the IRA owner furnishes the financial organization with a completed Form NC-4P. Form NC-4P may be obtained from the North Carolina Department of Revenue.

Oklahoma. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 5.0% of the gross payment if federal income taxes are withheld from the payment or if the IRA owner requests state withholding in writing.

Oregon. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 8.0% of the gross payment unless the IRA owner elects no state withholding.

Vermont. IRA distributions are subject to state withholding at 3.0% of the gross payment if federal income taxes are withheld from the payment or if the IRA owner requests state withholding in writing.
